

Mid-Level or Senior Litigation Associate at Entertainment, Media and IP Firm

Always wanted to be an entertainment, media or IP lawyer? Already are one, but want the flexibility to work part time? Fenno Law Firm (www.fennolaw.com), a small but nationally-recognized firm in Charleston/Mt. Pleasant, SC, that focuses on media, entertainment, intellectual property, Internet and technology law, seeks a mid-level or senior litigation associate with experience and interest in some or all of the following areas:

- Litigating defamation, privacy, copyright, trademark or other media, IP or IT cases in South Carolina state and federal courts;
- Registering trademarks and copyrights;
- Reviewing and drafting entertainment, copyright, trademark, and information technology contracts; and
- Working with existing clients and developing new business in the media, entertainment, IP and IT legal fields.

We are looking for someone who is motivated, helpful, friendly, upbeat and very intelligent (top 25 college or law school, high SATs and/or big firm training strongly preferred) who can step right in and contribute while also learning new skills and possibly bringing in some business. Strong writing skills are a necessity, and a writing sample is required. Trial experience is not required, but is a plus.

Pay ranges from $70-$140/hour depending on your skill set and experience. Bonuses are available for business generation. No benefits.

Hours can range from 10-40 hours/week depending on your availability and your skills. We do fun and interesting legal work for numerous TV stations, production companies, newspapers, bands, publishers, artists, authors, influencers and others in the media and entertainment fields, as well as assist all kinds of businesses with their intellectual property and information technology legal needs (see www.fennolaw.com for a list of representative clients).

We also offer some flexibility in your time and work location, although we strongly prefer someone who is licensed to practice in South Carolina.

Please send resumes to Edna Nix at paralegal@fennolaw.com. Thank you.
